Transfer of Right to Publish:
Author hereby grants, transfers, and assigns to the Princeton Journal of Bioethics (henceforth referred to as “Publisher”) the exclusive right to publish in the English language the Author’s article.

Warranty:
Author represents that:
1. Author is the sole proprietor of the article and has full power to enter in to this Agreement and to grant the rights hereby conveyed to Publisher.
2. The article has not heretofore been published whole or in part, in print or in any electronic medium, and is not being considered for publication by another publisher.
3. The article does not and, if published, will not infringe upon any proprietary right at common law, or any statutory copyright, or trademark right, or any right whatsoever.
4. The article contains no matter whatsoever that is libelous, in violation of any rights of privacy, or otherwise in contravention of law or the right of any third party.
5. Author will not hereafter enter into any agreement or understanding with any person, firm, or corporation that might conflict with the rights herein granted to Publisher.

Publication Rights:
Author grants to Publisher and its licensees, or the full term of copyright available, the following right:
1. Exclusive right to publish in English both paperback, and electronic editions of the article.

Copyright:
The copyright of the article shall be held by Publisher and shall be the exclusive property of Publisher. However, Author shall be permitted to duplicate the article for private, collegial, or instructional use, whole or in part, unchanged or with changes, without fee, so long as the duplication consists neither of republication in another journal or publication nor of electronic dissemination beyond the college, university, or other academic institution by which Author is employed at the time of duplication.
